Press Release: Body of infant found in Connecticut River confirmed to be missing seven month old.

Sometime before 8pm tonight, Connecticut State Police responded to the report of a body found in the water by the swing bridge in East Haddam. It was reported that it is the body of an infant. Middletown Police Detectives worked with Connecticut State Police and have confirmed that body located is that of seven month old Aaden Moreno.

We have not further information at this time. Updates will be sent as they develop.

Our thoughts are with Aaden and his family at this time of sorrow.

The Middletown Police Department would like to say thank you to all the agencies that assisted us with the search.
