Press Release: Update on search for missing 7 month old boy.

The Middletown Police department has been able to confirm that the seven month old, listed as missing, did enter the Connecticut River last night. The search for the seven month old boy is now classified as a recovery. Several agencies are assisting The Middletown Police Department with the recovery efforts. The investigation into the incident is ongoing. It is expected that charges will be forthcoming once the investigation is complete. We will not be answering any questions at this time due to the open investigation.

Tony Moreno's condition has been upgraded to stable. He is alert and conscious.
